

COMMUNICATION Skills through IMPROV

January 21st Library is closed. We will be at Christ Episcopal Church, 321 West Ave. (across the street)*

This activity is made possible by the voters of Minnesota through a grant from the Minnesota State Arts Board, thanks to a legislative appropriation from the arts and cultural heritage fund.

Join us once a week for a 4-week SKILLS FOR LIFE workshop.

Improvisation can improve daily communication skills to adapt, react and communicate effectively.

- * Personal and Family Interactions
- * Workplace Dynamics
- * Team Building or Leadership
- * Create a New Collaborative Culture

Who: Stevie Ray is a stand-up comedian, corporate trainer, businessman and our lead instructor

When: Mondays, January 7, 14, 21* and 28

Where: Red Wing Library, 12 noon - 1 PM

Why: Today's demands require us to adapt to circumstances quickly and communicate in positive ways so messages are received accurately, effectively, and efficiently.

More: Why not have a fun time learning? Come once or come all four weeks.
